Testimonials

“Nigel is a person of integrity of purpose and of life lived. At the very centre of his work is a love that will support you in becoming who you truly are. His expertise will ignite your finest thinking, integrate your clearest feelings and bring about the irresistible results of choice.

He knows that the truest path emerges from the one on the journey. In complete safety, he will accompany you to the learning edges, to the unpopular questions, to the music about to be written. You will also have fun because he knows life is joyous and ironic; and a dance...

Nigel, with all his knowledge, experience and expertise knows that the real expert is you”.

Time to Think

Nigel's impact on my personal and professional development in recent years has been immense.

His skill in getting to the root of what really drives a person is unlike anything I've ever experienced. I feel fortunate indeed to have been the beneficiary of his wisdom and insight when developing speeches to compete at national and international level. He is empathetic, perceptive, considered – a man of absolute integrity. What more could you ask for from a coach or mentor?

I found my sessions with Nigel to be incredibly insightful, multi-layered, and most importantly - very helpful. Nigel's warm, friendly and supportive approach allowed me to safely go into issues and literally find the gold in them. His dedication to me finding my own solutions is unquestionable and rare. I continue to use the insights I uncovered during our sessions to achieve my most meaningful goals. Thank you for helping me to dig deep and uncover what I need to progress at my best!

Andrew Chuks, Kellogg International

You have Coaching Excellence written all over you. Anyone working with you on this level is extremely lucky and I feel excited for anyone who walks through your door! The amazing things they'll learn, the simple and profound insights, actually being listened to. Your natural ability to get to the heart of the matter (pun intended) is uncommon.

Engineer, Petrochemicals

Thanks so much for your loving mentorship, deep heart and universal wisdom..

Jamie Armstrong, Sustainability Trainer

I really do appreciate you. You're so supportive, considered and insightful - an extremely special person with great gifts. Even though it's sometimes uncomfortable, I like you to be direct with me so that I can be direct with you. I genuinely really love spending time with you and (being a self-confessed growth junkie) particularly enjoy our game of 'polishing the rough diamond' - that's what makes the relationship so extraordinary, and such a deep pleasure.

Abbie Cooke, Co-Founder of Gig-Arts

Nigel is for me a guiding light that inspires me to move through the thickest of foggy thoughts with safety, excitement and light heartedness. His ability to coach with 'manly love' and directness supports people in looking squarely in the eye any issue and taking inspired action.

He truly is working in the field of life dreams.

Dance Professional

Absolutely loving the contact and support from you. What's amazing is how fast things start to happen when you are ready for change!

Fitness Professional

So few people really listen and aren't just waiting for their chance to give opinion. Thinking sessions give the power of importance back to the individual in a society where time for one another and really paying attention gets relegated to the bottom ranks of priority! If people really started to listen they would be amazed at what they would hear. I completely agree that attention is the key to creating a solid platform and the springboard of trust from which to express ideas – and that's what you do.

The Directors of MDM took a day out of their busy schedules to take part in a 'Time to Think' Coaching session with Nigel. The day was a complete success and the exercises carried out on the day were immediately put into practice at a Board Meeting the following day with excellent results. The whole meeting was carried out in a more efficient yet relaxed way with decisions being reached at greater speed and with the feeling that they had been reached by consensus. Since that day we have also been able to incorporate our learning into other aspects of the running of the business including team meetings and even presentation skills. I would whole heartedly recommend Nigel as a coach. He creates a perfect environment in which everyone can learn regardless of age and experience.'
